

Media Coverage

Company: AusBiotech
Date: 13 November 2009
Publication: Northern Territory News
Page: 10

Buchan

Business Strategy | Communication | Public Policy

Scabies project a winner

A DARWIN research project on the scabies mite has received national recognition.

Charles Darwin University PhD candidate Wajahat Mahmood was awarded the AusBiotech-GSK Student Excellence Award for the NT for his research, which is expected to help develop better therapies for the disease.