BIOTECH CONFERENCE Our bid a success

SOUTH Australia's growing biotech industry will host more than 1500 international delegates when the world's leading conference comes to town in 2011.

Science and Information Economy Minister Michael O'Brien said Adelaide's successful bid for the 2011 AusBiotech conference recognised SA's edge in the area.

``This important event will be attended by internationally renowned scientists, investors and business leaders from national and international companies," he said.

``(It) will give SA's bioscience community the opportunity to showcase their research capabilities, products and services on an international stage."
