

Life sciences companies shrinking

The ASX life sciences index shrank by five companies - most of whom went hunting the resources boom - in the last quarter, and biotechs are "mothballing projects" as industry awaits the passage of the R&D tax credit says AusBiotech CEO, Anna Lavelle » full report

To see the rest of this article, you will need a subscription.